

Synopsis Summary
Diana's Clue
by Altel Chagla

Altun and Diana get a murder case of a middle-aged man who, at the first sight, was killed during the robbery at the night. They discovered the truth after getting in the family secrets.

The man was killed at home. By his daughter. As a dad, he was a common one but he was an abusive husband. He started with belittling words running towards psychological manipulation and physical abuse.

That night, the son left the house to avoid presenting at his dad's dramas. While protecting her mom, the daughter killed the man by accident. The brother and sister dragged the dead body to the quietest place they could find and turned it into a robbery scene.

Diana attempted to find a clue to conceal the truth, as she wanted to save the girl. Additionally, Diana asked Sonay to help her to convince Altun. Sonay accepted it right away. However, without Altun being able to say anything, the daughter confessed. She did it to prevent Diana from taking this step. Altun, through her lawyer friend, helped to ease the daughter's punishment sentence.
